Reviewer’s report:

At this point,
I am satisfied with the explanation of the unit of analysis issues. The authors did a good job on that.
I admit that my previous comment on ecological fallacy was based on my misunderstanding.
I cannot take any stand on the “It is difficult to imagine a more carefully monitored population-level dataset.” statement (from the Cover letter). It might or might not be the case. If the Editor will decide that it is the case, the paper should be published.
