Health Related Quality of Life among Iraqi Immigrants Settled in Malaysia

This article deals with an important issue: Health Related Quality of Life

It is a descriptive study, very informative and well written.

I would like to suggest only two important points:

1. How is the sample taken? Please give detailed information about the recruitment procedure. For example how did you decide to distribute the questionnaires to 300 persons why not to 500 or 1000? How did you reach the addresses of the participants? Did you use some kind of registers or lists of immigrants etc.?

2. Did your sample represent all of the Iraqi immigrants living in Malaysia?

My decision is to accept this article after suggested revisions.
