Minor Essential Revisions
1. In the abstract, the last sentence of the background part should be in teh results.
2. In the conclusion part of the abstract, the sample was defined representative but it was limited with attendees, so it is not representative, it should be changed.
3. In the methods; it could not be understood how they have determined the shift for psychological violence to physical violence. It should be described clearly.
4. In the results; tables are convoluted. They should be simplified. For example: the "no violence" column in Table 2 could be erased.
