Reviewer's report

Title: The prevalence of metabolic syndrome and vascular risk factors in adults in southern China

Version: 1 Date: 10 October 2011

Reviewer: Puneet Misra

Reviewer's report:

I have gone through paper and points noted below

• Research Question is well defined, the study question authors proposed is relevant in the population where work has been done looking at CVD epidemic there.
• Methods are OK, although they have not given details of quality control of lab work. Sampling methods is OK, details are given. if there are more than one person doing interviews there may be interviewers bias, details has not been provided to control it.
• It’s a prevalence study and data for prevalence is reported rightly. Reults justify the conclusion.
• This writing is acceptable and fit for publication