Version: 1 Date: 16 August 2012

Reviewer: John Scott

Reviewer's report:

I recommend the paper undergo minor essential revisions. These relate to language and expression, which at times presents as clumsy.

Aside from such revision, I think the manuscript can be accepted as is. It is a well crafted manuscript which contributes new knowledge regarding HIV-serodiscordant couples.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
