Reviewer's report

Title: Which outcome expectancies are important in determining young adults' intentions to use condoms with casual sexual partners? A cross-sectional study

Version: 3 Date: 27 September 2012

Reviewer: Rik Crutzen

Reviewer's report:

The authors are to be complimented because they addressed most comments appropriately. Two comments remain:

Major Compulsory Revisions

1. Chi-squared analysis shows that both gender and ethnicity are associated with inclusion. The authors only mention this as a limitation of the study, but instead it would be more appropriate if they adjusted for this in the analysis.

Minor Essential Revisions

2. In the abstract the authors mention that outcome expectancies and outcome evaluations "together form" indirect attitude. Perhaps another verb, e.g., multiply, would be more appropriate.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
