Title: The role of nicotine replacement therapy for temporary abstinence in the home to protect children from smoke exposure: a qualitative study with disadvantaged smokers

Version: 1  Date: 2 January 2013

Reviewer: Ann Post

Reviewer's report:

Important and well-done study. This paper tries to understand how health professionals can motivate parents to change their smoking behaviour to protect their children from indoor second hand smoke. The research question is Can the use of NRT help them to temporary abstinence? The results and discussion gives a clear answer. Publish it!
