Reviewer's report

Title: Prevalence and determinants of a normotensive blood pressure in a German population based cohort of hypertensive study participants

Version: 3 Date: 31 October 2012

Reviewer: Ulf Lindblad

Reviewer's report:

Thank you for this revised manuscript that was much improved, and most of my concerns were met. However, I am still not convinced about the conclusions (compulsory revision) as they do not reflect findings in the current study. E.g., how was the impact of blood pressure monitoring and giving individualized feedback on blood pressure control examined and presented?
