Title: Development of a quantitative food frequency questionnaire for Brazilian patients with type 2 diabetes

Version: 4 Date: 31 July 2013

Reviewer: Koutatsu Maruyama

Reviewer's report:

I agreed with most authors responses.
I would like to ask them nutrient database.
How many (percent) foods did the authors obtain the data from local manufactures?
Did they provide the whole data to calculate the all nutrients?
If several foods which contribute subject's habitual diet and have missing data of several major nutrients were existed, please discuss that those data affect the nutrient calculation or not.
