The specific responses to Referee’s comments

Comment 1) I believe that English needs to be corrected
Response:
The paper has been copyedited by a native-English speaker with scientific expertise to improve the style of written English as suggested. The tables and references have also been formatted to conform to the journal style.

Comment 2) More current references (2013-2014) should be inserted.
Response:
Based on the latest literature about cervical cancer and its related factors, I have inserted 11 current references published in 2013 or 2014 in the revised manuscript and deleted 7 old references from the manuscript.

The new references inserted in the revised manuscript are as follows:
