'Prevalence of intimate partner violence against women, parent violence against children, and intergenerational transmission in Romania'
Cornelia I. Rada

This article is focusing on an important topic – Intimate partner violence in 869 subjects in Romania.

However, there are some issues of the manuscript which must be clarified.

Introduction

Major Compulsory Revisions

1. A great part of the introduction is about different studies and regulations in Romania. See page 2 and 3. This part could be shortened and maybe included at beginning of the Method-part with a sub-title.

2. I do not understand the sentence “The methodology here….for other authors” Should be removed and may be included but more motivated, in the discussion-part.

Methods:

3. Page 5. “We reviewed the literature….questionnaires items” The authors have not given any references.

4. The authors do not analyse “Missing” cases regarding both those who did not participated and the internal missing values and the impact on the outcome measures in terms of under or over estimation.

Results:

Several of the tables (tables 1-2) could be skipped and only mentioned in the text.

Discussion:

5. The main results of the study should be mentioned at the beginning of the “Discussion-part” and related to international literature.

6. The response-rate and missing values should be discussed in the “Limitation-part”
