Reviewer’s report:

Thank you for the revised manuscript “The HIV epidemic and prevention response in Tigrai, Ethiopia: A synthesis at sub-national level” which I have now reviewed.

This is a sound manuscript that describes the HIV program in Tigrai, Ethiopia, in some detail. The questions are well defined. The methods are appropriate and well described.

In my first review had asked that some issues be addressed before a final decision was made. These included the style of presenting the data and the discussion sections, as well as references.

These issues have now been addressed.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests
