Version: 4 Date: 21 July 2014

Reviewer: Hanns Moshammer

Reviewer’s report:

The paper has been substantially improved. Although I would use some terms differently (like "experimental") likely because I am from a different research background I agree with the decisions of the authors. I find the paper is ready for publication.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.

Declaration of competing interests:

The author have cited one of my papers. So I do have some interest that their paper is published though. But I understand the editor knows about that "conflict".
