Title: Have young men been targeted to change risk behaviours? A scoping review of the literature.

Version: 3 Date: 28 July 2014

Reviewer: Georgie MacArthur

Reviewer's report:

I am happy with the changes made. However, I'm not convinced that the final two sentences of the updated conclusion reflect the findings made in the study and would suggest that they are changed to better reflect the findings and their implications.

Minor revision. Lines 406-408 – these sentences could be altered – repetition in the first, and the second could be slightly clearer to highlight that these were the most prevalent risk behaviours among young men from the USA.
