Reviewer’s report:

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to review this manuscript once again. Overall, I am pleased that the authors have either revised the manuscript addressing the concerns of reviewers or have justified/clarified any issues that they have decided to maintain. The manuscript is in a shape that could be published without undue delay. Currently my minor concerns are for references (a few) that either have to be complete or reformatted. Reference 10 for example is incomplete while reference 12 includes issue number; when it should not. But these are some areas that the copy editing staff will easily pick out and advise the authors. I am happy with this manuscript and would support its publication. I have no further comments. Adamson Muula
