Title: The positive association between number of children and obesity in Iranian women and men: Results from the National Health Survey

Version: 5  Date: 28 March 2008

Reviewer's report:

Most of my original criticisms have been answered, although same of them have not. I think the paper has improved in the revised version, although the fact that the authors finally do not follow the recommendations to research the association of interest in couples (more than in men and women who are couples) subtract strong to the research. Anyway, I think it is interesting, especially for coming from a Middle East country, from where not much research is made.
