Version: 3 Date: 6 March 2009

Reviewer's report:

The authors have made significant revisions and improvements to their manuscript. I am satisfied with all of their comments. The authors may wish to address the few remaining minor points below.

- Discretionary Revisions

1. Take the decimal points out of the percentages reported in the abstract and the first paragraph of the Background section. The percentages are only estimates, reporting to one decimal place implies more precision than they measure.

2. The first sentence of paragraph 3 (Background) contradicts the last sentence of paragraph 2. The authors may wish to clarify the uniqueness of their study.

3. Page 7, paragraph 1 and Table 1 - does the prevalence of overweight (22.8%) include those who met the definition of obesity?

4. The English is acceptable and understandable, but not perfect. The authors may wish to get language editing.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
