Title: Relationships, Love and Sexuality: What the Filipino Youth Think and Feel

Version: 1 Date: 10 March 2009

Reviewer: Anthony Smith

Reviewer's report:

This is an extremely long manuscript which offers little novelty in its findings, except perhaps that it is from the Philippines. It presents cross-sectional data on young people from schools and colleges yet states that "incorrect knowledge seems to increase sexual initiation" - an observation not supportable by appropriate analysis of the data. The data are weighted but no allowance seems to have been made for the fact that they are clustered. If clustered has not been accounted for then all statistical inference is suspect.
