Title: Translation and validation of Berlin Questionnaire in primary health care in Greece.

Version: 2 Date: 20 December 2012

Reviewer's report:

I think the changes to the manuscript have strengthened it substantively. The PSG scoring system still needs clarification, they say they scored by AASM standard system but it is either AASM recommended or alternative criteria, the standard criteria does not exist

I think there is little use screening for an AhI > 5 because there would be v few patients excluded at this cut point (< 10%) but the authors have presented 3 cut points appropriately

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
