Title: A Solitary Bronchial Papilloma with Unusual Endoscopic Presentation. Case study and literature review.

Version: 1 Date: 2 June 2009

Reviewer: HOJOONG KIM

Reviewer's report:

The authors described solitary endobronchial papilloma (SEP) in 39-year-old male patient. Although SEP is not common, it is also not uncommon for experienced bronchoscopists. As case descriptions and reviews are perfect, this article would be apt for case report rather than case series.
