Reviewer's report:

Minor Essential Revisions:

Abstract, page 2, results, line 4.

It appears that the minimum sample size was 1 patient. Should be changed after removal of the case study.

Methods and results.

I think the numbering of tables not follow their order of appearance in the text. One option would be to cite the reference to the methodology used for Tables 3 and 4 in the right place, but number each table, and refer to it in the place that corresponds to their order of appearance.

Missing a "." at the end of last paragraph of the results section.

Table 2.

There is a mistake in the sample size of the work of Braun. There are 229 subjects, as manifested in the text, and not 207.

Discretionary Revisions:

The last three paragraphs of the introduction could be merged into one.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable
