Reviewer's report

Title: Measuring troublesomeness of chronic pain by location

Version: 2 Date: 19 January 2006

Reviewer: Alison M Elliott

Reviewer's report:

General
I am pleased to report that the authors have made the amendments I requested except one point highlighted below. I trust the authors to make this small amendment and I do not need to see the revised manuscript again.

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Major Compulsory Revisions (that the author must respond to before a decision on publication can be reached)

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Minor Essential Revisions (such as missing labels on figures, or the wrong use of a term, which the author can be trusted to correct)
The authors state in their covering letter that they have corrected the statement on the significance of the correlations reported in table 2. However, despite the fact that all the correlations in the table are significant (p<0.05) the authors still report that "all but one of the correlations were statistically significant" on page 12 of the revised manuscript.

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Discretionary Revisions (which the author can choose to ignore)

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

What next?: Accept after minor essential revisions

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No

Declaration of competing interests:
I declare that I have no competing interests