This manuscript requires only some minor revisions to be accepted for publication.

The first paragraph (Background) seems superfluous an can be omitted, because the content comes back further on several times. Also the last paragraph is an unwanted repetition.

The description of the case can be shortened, Attention must be taken not to repeat some phrases too often. Avoid to make conclusions or hypotheses in the case report itself.

The manuscript needs soms language corrections before being published.

Level of interest: An article of limited interest
