Title: Which of the specific pathophysiologies is higher in simplified International Index of Erectile Function (IIEF-5) among ED patients?

Version: 4  Date: 4 January 2014

Reviewer: Michael Eisenberg

Reviewer's report:

The authors have examined how iie5 relates to different causes of ED. While interesting, several points warrant mention.

1. Great detail regarding how different diagnostic categories of ED were made is required. A further breakdown of type of medications may be required given that antihypertensives have different implications than antidepressants. Moreover, an expansion of the description of "hormonal" is required.
