Title: Bladder sensory desensitization decreases urinary urgency

Version: 3 Date: 15 May 2007

Reviewer: Yasuhiko Igawa

Reviewer’s report:

General
I am satisfied with the author’s reply to my concerns and the article has been appropriately revised. I have no further comments except the following point:

Discretionary Revisions (which the author can choose to ignore)
Issue 1)
"page 5, Methods. What are the inclusion criteria of OAB to enter this study?"

Reply:
Patients had to have refractory OAB as stated in page 5 and line 11 (Methods).

Reply to the authors:
The question means like the follows: Are there any inclusion (or exclusion) criteria for the frequency (or severity) of the OAB symptoms themselves, i.e. urgency episodes or frequency of voiding per day. For instance, urgency episodes are 7 times or more per week, and frequency of voiding per 24 hours are 8 times or more.

What next?: Accept after discretionary revisions
