Title: Periodontal conditions in patients with Marfan syndrome - a multicenter case control study

Version: 1 Date: 30 September 2013

Reviewer: Dimitrios Andreadis

Reviewer's report:

This interesting clinical study addressing the periodontal conditions of patients suffering from Marfan syndrome. In fact, only few, insufficient data are available on this field, so far.

There are only some minor corrections which should be done:

The second paragraph of the Background section could be shortened, since the general part about periodontitis should be known by the readers of BMC Oral Health.

Table 1 can be deleted
