Title: Intimate partner violence and mental health in Bolivia

Version: 4 Date: 9 May 2013

Reviewer: Sherry Lipsky

Reviewer’s report:

The paper has not changed much from the last review -- the methods section should be after the measures section and does not need to be repeated in the results section. Several sentences need revising for inappropriate or confusing wording. In the main, the results section is still too lengthy--no need to report every single item in the tables and no need to comment on those that are nonsignificant. The discussion section now contains a few new references to other studies but is fairly superficial.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field
