Title: Immunological response in mice bearing pulchellin-treated breast tumor

Version: 1 Date: 26 April 2012

Reviewer: Hiroaki Takimoto

Reviewer's report:

The submitted manuscript describes the immunopharmacological activity of pulchellin. Materials and methods section is complete and methods are well described. Experiments are clear-cut. Results are interesting above all from a speculative point of view. Results are adequately discussed in the light of most recent papers on this matter.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable
