Title: The BraveNet Prospective Observational Study on Integrative Medicine Treatment Approaches for Pain

Version: 2 Date: 18 April 2013

Reviewer: George Lewith

Reviewer’s report:

I have seen the authors' response to the reviewers' comments and they've taken my comments into account. They've replied as best they can and resolved the issues about the very limited interpretation of the study in a thoughtful and comprehensive manner. There are fundamental flaws with developing a large, network-based evaluation of outcome but equally there are great assets in evaluating practice in "real life".
