Reviewer’s report

Title: The value of the UK Clinical Aptitude Test in predicting pre-clinical performance: a prospective cohort study at Nottingham Medical School

Version: 1 Date: 14 June 2010

Reviewer: Ian Wilson

Reviewer’s report:

Major compulsory revisions - NIL
Minor essential revisions - NIL
Discretionary revisions - It is noted in the paper that the student scores on UKAT and matricualtion scores are of limited range, but the authors have not made any attempt to adjust for the restricted range. I have labelled this discretionaly as I am not sure it would make much difference to the outcome of the study.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.

Declaration of competing interests:

No competing interests