Title: Student apathy for classroom learning and need of repositioning in present andragogy in Indian dental schools

Version: 7 Date: 25 October 2012

Reviewer: Priya Khanna

Reviewer's report:

No revisions required.

It is good that the authors have taken into consideration previous comments and have made suitable amendments. The data analysis has been rectified using chi-square test of significance which is more suitable for the present study than its parametric equivalent.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field
