Title: Promoting inclusion for students with a disability - Physiotherapy inherent requirements

Version: 2 Date: 18 March 2013

Reviewer: Gudrun Edgren

Reviewer's report:

The manuscript is now acceptable for publication.
The change to a case study was a very good idea. Other clarifications and changes, including addition of references, have improved the manuscript. I agree with the authors (p 17) that the framework needs testing. It would be interesting to know how the framework is interpreted by students with an interest in physiotherapy, whether they have a disability or not.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests
