Title: Evolutionary Explanations in Medical and Health Profession Courses: are you answering your students Why questions?

Version: 4 Date: 15 March 2005

Reviewer's report:

This paper now reads well and the revisions should help it to stimulate the kind of question asking they advocate. The revisions may also forstall some unnecessary criticisms. I think it is ready for publication. The only additional thing I can think of is, because this is a web journal, might be to refer readers to further information readily available on the web. www.darwinianmedicine.org is one good source.
