Reviewer’s report:

The authors have responded to carried out the various clarifications and modifications which were suggested. The manuscript reads much better as a result. The only modification which I suggest is that the authors update the access date of Reference 36.

The language of the manuscript is acceptable but the authors may take the help of a native English speaker to further improve the language.

The manuscript represents important work from a developing country and would be of interest to researchers with similar research interests in both developing and developed nations. I would strongly recommend accepting the manuscript for publication.
