Reviewer's report

Title: Transmural palliative care by means of teleconsultation: a window of opportunities ...and new restrictions

Version: 1 Date: 14 December 2012

Reviewer: Daniel López

Reviewer's report:

- Discretionary Revisions (which are recommendations for improvement but which the author can choose to ignore)

The theoretical framework that underpins the context-tuned telecare conception proposed in the paper should be explained further with more detail and enriched with a important contributions, which are surprisingly missing. I was hoping to find more about User studies because they can bring in important insight on how telecare is appropriated and retuned in practice. The introduction of Users matters by Nelly Oudshoorn is a good review and it might be useful. Akrich's "De-scription of the techical objects" should defently be taken into consideration as well.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.

Declaration of competing interests:

I declare that I have no competing interests