Title: Informatics Leadership Models in the Academic Clinical and Translational Research Enterprise

Version: 3 Date: 21 June 2012

Reviewer’s report:

The article needs a basic overhaul. It is not bad in its approach per se, but it is very "fuzzy". It appears to be more of an editorial and maybe should be in a journal such as JHIM or JAHIMA (maybe even JASIST), but needs work to present the data in a more convincing format.

There is nothing wrong with the exploratory approach, but at the end of reading it, the general question left is "So what?" with not much in the way of new insights given to the reader.

Please continue to work on this. It is an important area of work.
