Reviewer's report

Title: Experiencing Neutropenia: Quality of Life Interviews with Adult Cancer Patients

Version: 1 Date: 23 May 2005

Reviewer: Chris Miaskowski

Reviewer's report:

I agree with the first reviewer. This paper is an excellent pilot of the issue of patients perceptions during the time that they are neutropenic. I believe that the second reviewer does not understand qualitative research methodology. The authors have done an excellent job describing their method, the steps they took to insure the reliability of their work and the limitations of the study. I think the paper should be accepted for publication.

What next?: Accept without revision