Advice on publication: Other (see below)

I have now had an opportunity to look at the revised manuscript and the covering letter. I am happy that the substance of my comments has been taken on board & apart from a few typos I think the paper now is of sufficient standard to be published. I would suggest one change, however, in the abstract conclusion that the sentence 'implementing an ECV service will yield cost savings' be changed to 'may yield cost savings'.
