Reviewer's report:

This is an ongoing improvement. I feel we are beginning to go round in circles with the review process which is very nearly there. To this end I have taken the liberty of doing some of my own suggested editing to the abstract only (attached) and have added a couple of comments to explain what might not be clear. I have deliberately tried not to change the sense the authors wished hence the edit is purely in line with their statements.

The rest of the text could still do with some editing and I remain convinced the single combined figure I suggested last time would be a powerful way of getting all data across in one fell swoop but do not think there is a lot to gained now from more iterations with me.
