Title: The role of health extension workers in improving utilization of maternal health services in rural areas in Ethiopia: a cross sectional study

Version: 2 Date: 23 January 2012

Reviewer: Peter Johnson

Reviewer’s report:

Reasonably well written paper reporting field based research in an area where little data driven recommendations exist.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
