Reviewer's report:

1) In the abstract section "line 6": delete the word 'were'. In the sentence "Three hundred and fifty five (96.2% of the women were received tetanus toxoid vaccine......

2) On pg. 3 of the article under introduction, better to start with "Every pregnancy is a risk of complications ...." instead of "Any pregnancy ........"

3) On pg 4. of the revised article, under study setting, check sentence 7 which starts with 'According to the Ethiopian National census report in 2007, the total population of the zone is 220, 334, of these 180,094 (81.7%) are urban dwellers..... Are the underlined figures correct? i.e 220 and 334, are these correct figures
