Reviewer's report

Title: Corruption, inequality and population perception of health system quality in Europe

Version: 3 Date: 13 February 2013

Reviewer: Michel Grignon

Reviewer's report:

Overall, I think the paper must be revised and the analysis conducted in a different way. See the attached report for my recommendations. It is a very interesting topic and I like the questions very much (does corruption or inequality affect perceptions of the health care system? but I do not think the analyses as conducted so far help enough with answering them.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field
