Title: Searching for 'Practical' Resources to support Patient and Family Engagement in Healthcare Decisions: A Scoping Review

Version: 1 Date: 11 December 2013

Reviewer: Marcus Redley

Reviewer's report:

This paper is a well written; the methodology used to undertake the scoping review is clearly described and appears to be appropriate. The findings are neatly and logically presented, as are the discussion and conclusions. I see no reason, other than a few typos (bottom of pages 13 and 17) why this paper should not be published in its present form.
