Title: Electronic health information exchange in underserved settings: Examining two initiatives in small physician practices & community health centers

Version: 2  Date: 26 June 2014

Reviewer's report:

This is a very well-written and interesting paper. The methodology is sound and I commend the selection of quotations. The only issue I would raise is the (completely understandable) very US-centric nature of the paper and references. If this paper is intended to be read overseas then I believe it would be useful to look at adoption of shared-care and summary care records in other countries. Of course, many of the barriers to HIE are nation-specific, but table 5 lists barriers and benefits which are universal Discretionary Revisions - if authors would like to put this in an international contest.

I would suggest looking at
