Level of interest: A paper whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Advice on publication: Accept after discretionary revisions

Points relating to compulsory revisions

6) Need to mention in the limitations section that the social support and loneliness scales have not been validated in this population

8 and 12) a change to the stepwise modelling was never requested. Only a table detailing the final (not full) findings with 95% CI was requested. The table only has standard errors.

Conclusions
2) There is still inconsistency in both the text and tables about decimal points. I would suggested 1 decimal point throughout.
