Title: Cost-effectiveness analysis of guidelines for antihypertensive care in Finland

Version: 4 Date: 28 August 2007

Reviewer: Atle Fretheim

Reviewer's report:

General
The authors have made some adjustments in response to my comments. I think we have different understandings of several principal and methodological issues and I do not expect that further rounds of discussions will change that.

I stand by my previous criticism and still think that there are changes that could be made that would improve the paper. However, I think the authors have provided sufficient compromises for me to be able to recommend that the paper is published in its current form (Finally!).

Yours, Atle Fretheim
