Development and validation of the diabetes numeracy test (DNT)

The paper is well-written and the authors have explained that the measure at this time would be more likely used for research purposes. However, the authors have a paper under review at the Annals of Internal Medicine which suggests that the measure has clinical usefulness. Without reviewing the other paper, I cannot fully comment, but the current paper would have been strengthened if the clinical information was included in the current paper, particularly in terms of addressing predictive validity.
