Title: Intravenous Vitamin C Administration Reduces Fatigue in Office Workers: A Double-blind Randomized Controlled Trial

Version: 2  Date: 22 December 2011

Reviewer: Wangjae Lee

Reviewer's report:

The effect of vitamin C on the reduction of fatigue presented by authors are highly valuable, since it was extensive in vivo study in human under a double-blind randomized controlled system. In addition, the revised manuscript meets not only all of the suggestions described in my previous reviewer's report, but also suggestions by other reviewer's. Therefore, I strongly suggest the accept without no more revise.
