Minor Essential Revisions

The reviewer does not have further reservation for the current manuscript. The authors have significantly improved the grammar in the context and corrected the errors. The only suggestion I would have is to choose the right words, at least a consistent phrase, to address their conclusions in the abstract and in the context. For the conclusions, I think the "dietary intervention", as in the title, would be appropriate.

Minor error in Table 2, "comparation" should be "comparison".

The linkage for the clinical trial is broken, please check.
