Reviewer’s report:

The manuscript has been revised as such that it addresses all the concerns and also include a new analysis regarding gender differences which possess a great deal of contribution for the literature regarding obesity and gender differences.

Minor essential revisions:
It is now important to cite a bit more studies regarding fMRI/obesity/gender differences regarding their new results. Few recent ones:

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: Yes, and I have assessed the statistics in my report.
